Proceeds from the event will help fund Sowing Seeds of Hope's ongoing children's activities, which address social-emotional development, academic progress, and physical health.

This event is also intended to raise awareness about childhood obesity, which affects 1 in 5 children in Alabama. Childhood obesity has been linked with later development of Type II diabetes, hypertension and cardiovascular disease, liver and kidney failure, infertility, sleep apnea, orthopedic problems, and cancer. It can usually be prevented or corrected with changes in diet and exercise. For more information about childhood obesity, please visit https://www.cdc.gov/obesity/childhood.
